APPENDIX C
The Palatines in South Carolina

The Revill Lists

The following is compilation of families who arrived on the ships DRAGON and UNION in Charles Town, S. C., December 14th and 16th, 1764, and PLANTERS ADVENTURE, February 12, 1765. It is based on the contents of five lists contained in Janie Revill's book, "A Compilation of Original Lists of Protestant Immigrants to South Carolina." (Originally published, Columbia, 1939)

The spelling of names in the lists poses a difficult problem for the compiler, one which in many cases must be solved with an educated guess. Thus the lists show both the version of the name shown by Revill (based on her reading of the script) and the version adopted by me (GAR) after consulting all of the available data, including the land plats. Some of the results are very uncertain.

List Date	List Content
Dec. 24, 1764	Petitioners for Warrants of Survey (56) from passengers on the ship Union.
Jan. 31, 1764	Persons 12 and over (176), with ages, who arrived on the ships Dragon and Union.
Jan. 31, 1764	Persons from Dragon and Union who died after arrival in Charles Town (45).
Jan. 31, 1764	Children between 2 to 11 years of age, from the Union and Dragon (86).
Feb. 27, 1765	Petitioners for Warrants of Survey who arrived on the Dragon (46) and Planters Adventure (14).

A summary of the results appears at "A Compilation of Palatine Families" (p. 58). It shows that it has been possible to assign each of the named persons in the Revill Lists to one of the three ships with a high degree of accuracy and to account for nearly all of those who left London. The only significant disparity is in the number of those under the age of fourteen: four more appear as Dragon passengers and four less as Union passengers than one would predict from the Committee report and the published numbers of those arriving in Charles Town on each ship.

PALATINE LAND PLATS

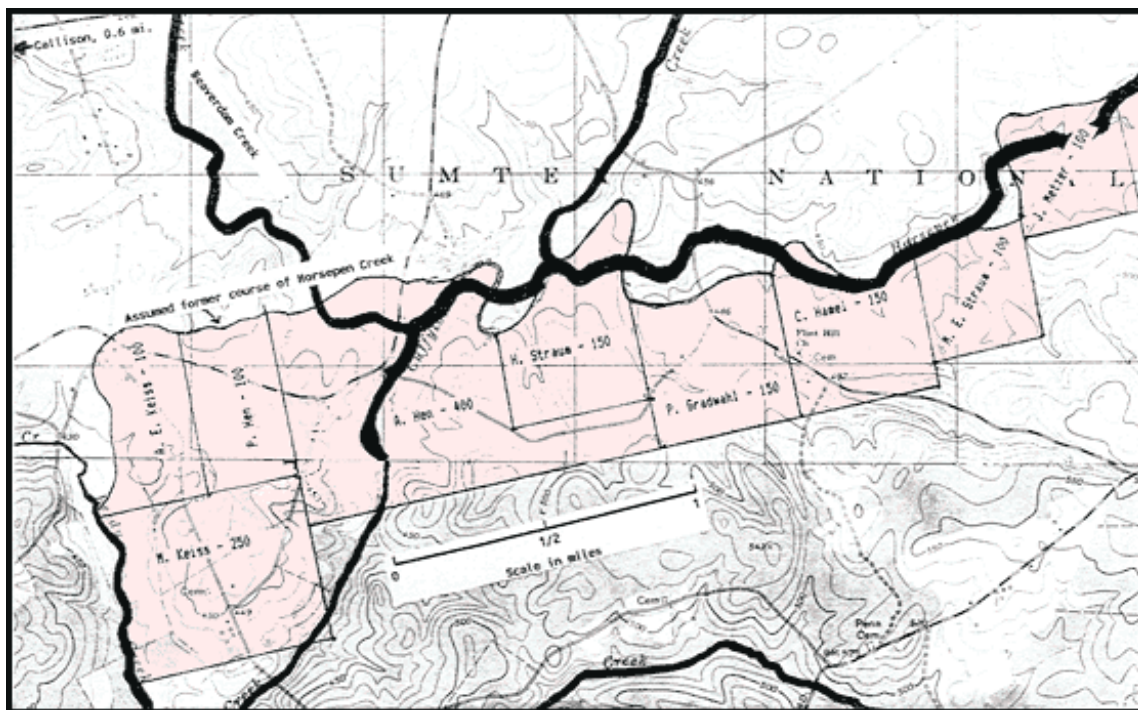

The four maps which appear below are the result of the author's efforts to locate, as precisely as possible, the various properties which were granted to the Palatine immigrants of 1764-65. The process by which the placements were made was as follows:

Copies of 94 original Palatine land plats were obtained from the South Carolina Department of Archives and History In Columbia. Each is quite legible and includes a scale drawing of the property, dimensions, bearings, ground features, identification of neighboring landholders, if any, and the name of the stream on which it bordered.

The drawings were copied, cut out, and then placed in position with respect to known neighbors. In this way it was possible to assemble groups of properties with the lots in proper relationship to each other, and to show a clearly defined course for the stream on which they were situated. Unfortunately, it was not possible to connect all of the plats with neighbors, but several large groupings were assembled.

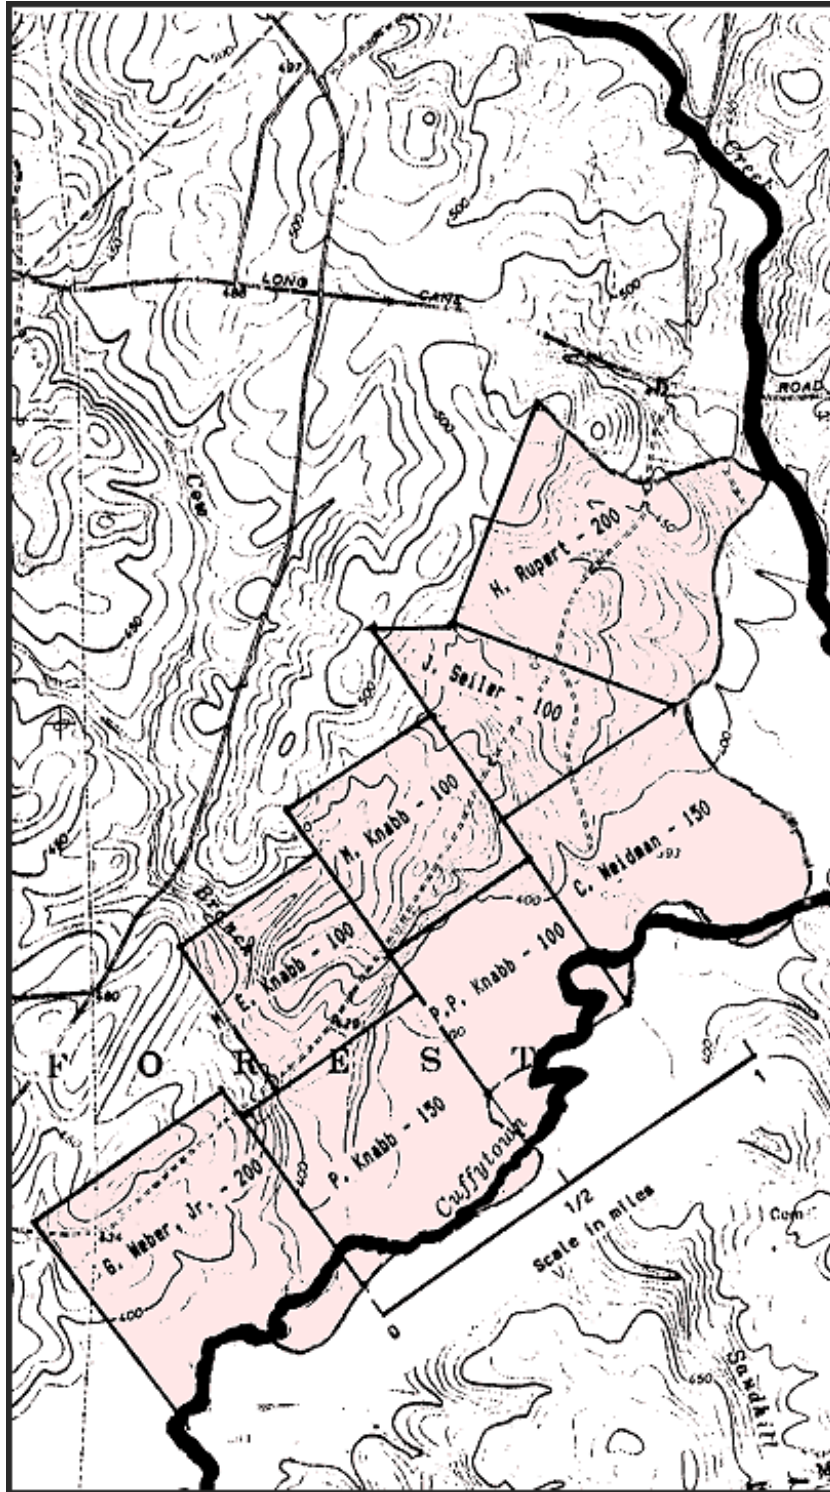

The final step in the process was to copy the plats xerographically, while at the same time reducing them to the scale of the U. S. Geological Survey topographical maps of the area (1:24,000). The copies were made as transparencies. Since each plat, or group of plats, could be oriented with respect to the compass, It was possible to match most of the groups with the corresponding stream course on the topographical map.

The process was quite successful for the settlements along Hard Labor Creek, Cuffeetown Creek and Horsepen Creek, although in the latter instance it appears that a major change has taken place in the location of the stream bed. But In the south, on the branches of Turkey Creek, there was very little success, due either to substantial changes in the streams or their names.

A COMPILATION OF PALATINE FAMILIES WHO ARRIVED IN CHARLES TOWN, SOUTH CAROLINA, 1764/1765

By judicious use of the names, ages and acreage allotments I have attempted to produce a list of passengers on each of the three ships, Union, Dragon, and Planters Adventure, and to reconcile all of the data regarding numbers of passengers, deaths, head rights, etc.

Notes pertaining to the preceding table:

1. Based on (a) the Committee report, (b) newspaper records showing 180 arrived on Union, 140 on Dragon, and (c) the Revill lists.
2. Based on land grant data and the Revill lists. Where family size was insufficient to justify the acreage allotment, a child under two years was assumed, since these were entitled to fifty acres but were not entitled to a bounty payment and so were not shown on the Revill lists.

Calculations based on the Committee report:

Union: 141 full passengers, 181 persons; 459.63 L @ 3.16 L each.
 $141 \times 3.16 = 445.56$ L. 14.07 L extra charges.
Distribution = 101 over 14, 80 under 14.

Dragon: 160 persons, 442.24 L @ 3.16 L each.
 $(442.24 - 14.07) / 3.16 = 135.5$ full passengers.
Distribution = 111 over 14, 49 under 14.

Planters Adventure: 33 persons, 31.5 full passengers.
Distribution = 30 over 14, 3 under 14.
